Greg

This is the one that we were going to send the DM's Brian Boccaccio and Joe Gaeta, right?

Thanks

Bret

Greg – Here is a sample email that I would like to send out through constant contact – I wanted you to review it and also wanted to confirm if you would like Endo's logo on the invitation. Would you like it to say something like "Program funded in part by Endo Pharmaceuticals"

Thanks
Annette

Who Suffers from Chronic Low Back Pain?

Chronic low back pain is among the most common chronic pain syndromes, affecting men and women equally. If left untreated, it can cause unnecessary suffering and upset a person's life at home and on the job. The good news is that a wide range of treatment options are readily available to successfully reduce or manage this type of pain.

Chronic low back pain frequently affects people in their prime working years and, as a result, it is the single largest cause of lost work days and lost income. It also accounts for more than 25 percent of all workers' compensation claims, with a great cost to society. Additionally, while studies show that many sufferers do not seek medical attention, chronic low back pain remains a primary reason for hospital and physician office visits.
